Please discuss your concern (if any) with your Adviser at your first meeting.

Adviser remuneration

The cost of providing a financial product or service to you will depend on the nature and complexity of the advice, financial product and/or service provided. Generally, whenever your Adviser provides a recommendation for a financial product or service, your Adviser may be remunerated through either:

- An initial fee for service; or
- An ongoing fee for service; or
- An implementation fee; or
- Commission on insurance payments from product providers where applicable; or
- A combination of any of the above.

Details of the fees that you will be charged will vary based on the service you engage your Adviser for. Your prior consent regarding any, fees & benefits to be paid to your Adviser will be obtained prior to the financial service being provided. Agreed services and the applicable fees will be outlined to you in the Adviser's terms of Engagement. All fees are inclusive of GST.

All fees and/or commissions are initially paid to Crown before being distributed to your Adviser's Practice after licensing fees and other associated costs are deducted.

Licensee remuneration

Crown receives a flat fee or % of the revenue of the Adviser's remuneration for the provision of services required under its Australian Financial Services Licence.

Referrals

Crown is fully aligned to the FASEA Code of Ethics whereby your Adviser must abide by the Code when referring you to a third party for a service that they can't provide and in reverse, if a third party refers you to the adviser. Provided that there is no conflict of interest for the Adviser and that the service is in your best interest, the third party may receive a fee for the referral.

If your Adviser referred you to a third party for a service they could not provide, the Adviser can't receive a referral fee. The Advisers' employer can receive the fees provided it does not create a conflict for your Adviser. It is important to note that your Adviser will only refer you to another party if it is in your best interest to do so.

As part of the Code, you must give free, prior and informed full consent for any benefit that will be obtained before being referred.

You will receive more detailed information concerning any referral fee in your SoA or other relevant document.

Other forms of remuneration or benefits

Crown and/or its Advisers may receive non-monetary benefits where:

- The amount is less than $300 and identical or similar benefits are not given on a frequent basis;
- The benefit has a genuine education or training purpose (including attendance of conferences) and is relevant to providing financial product advice; and/or
- The benefit consists of the provision of information technology software or support and is related to the provision of financial product advice in relation to the financial products issued or sold by the benefit provider.

Payments or benefits received are disclosed in your Adviser's register. A copy of the register is available upon request.

Related companies

Neither your Adviser nor the Licensee have any association or relationship with the issuers of financial products that might reasonably be expected to be capable of influencing them in the provision of financial services.

Training and Development Support

Crown may receive payments or benefits from product providers in return for granting rights to promote their product and give presentations at conferences and/or professional development training days.

Crown will use these payments to pay for costs associated with the education components of such conferences, training of Advisers or professional development days.

We may choose not to proceed with our advice if we believe that we do not have all the information to provide you with the advice that meets your best interest.

Please tell us about any changes in your circumstances so that we can confirm that our advice continues to be suitable for your needs.

How are we paid?

Commission	Crown Wealth Group Pty Ltd, after deduction of licensing fees and other associated costs, will pay Taylor Financial Advice and Solutions Pty Ltd 100% of the gross revenue received. Crown receive a commission from the Insurance product provider with whom your business is placed. The amount varies depending upon the product, in the range of 30% - 70% of the premium (excluding taxes and statutory charges). Details of the commission will be outlined to you in your Statement of Advice. The commission is included in the premium quoted to you and therefore not an additional cost. Ongoing commissions may also be payable upon renewal of the Policy, and these will be disclosed to you within the Statement of Advice.
-------------------	---

Adviser Fees	We will charge for our advice, which will include a Statement of Advice. This fee is usually a once-off payment of $2,950, including GST. If the advice is straightforward or of low complexity, we will agree on a fee with you before you decide to proceed. This fee includes implementation and 12 months of ongoing advice and service. After twelve months, we will invite you to engage us for another twelve months. The initial and ongoing service fees can be paid directly by you, or you can authorise us to deduct it from your selected product(s). The amount depends upon the type of product and is specific to your circumstances. These fees will be outlined in our Initial Advice Terms of Engagement and Fixed Term Advice and Service Agreement and disclosed to you within the Statement of Advice and the advice will not proceed without your agreement.

Who We Pay?

Referrers	As we are aligned to our professional Code of Ethics, we personally cannot pay out or receive any benefit for any service we refer to another specialist or those that are referred to us. Where the arrangements exist within the business and are permissible, we must obtain your free, prior and informed full consent for any benefit that will be obtained before any referral is actioned. Your consent will be fully documented as well as fully disclosed to you in the Statement of Advice.

Ongoing service

Depending on your requirements, we can provide different levels of service, from advice on a particular product only to the preparation of a comprehensive financial plan. Our terms of Engagement will explain the available service levels together with the associated fee options to enable you to decide the types of services you require going forward to maintain your strategy.

Although the success of our business is based on our commitment to an ongoing review of your circumstances, portfolio and strategy, you can tell us how often you would like us to undertake a review of your financial situation. We recommend that reviews should be conducted at least every 12 months

If I cancel in the cooling-off period, will I receive a refund of the initial advice fee?

We understand there are circumstances where you may change your mind following our first meeting. For this reason, we provide a 5-business-day cooling-off period. If you do not provide us with written notice of your intention to cancel within the five business days, then you are legally bound by any agreement that you have made with us. We believe that this is a fair arrangement considering the labour and expense that we will incur in developing strategies, documenting this and preparing paperwork within the 5-day period following our initial interview.

“As a professional financial services provider, we are committed to providing you with our advice that meets your best interest. We value your support and appreciate any feedback that will help us to meet your expectations and need”.
